A. L. Cole's Condition Shows Improvement

Philadelphia Specialist Returns Home Without Operating.

As we go to press word from the Clearfield Hospital contains the satisfying intelligence that the condition of A. L. Cole, Esq., remains somewhat improved over what it was this time yesterday, when he was reported in a very critical condition.

Mr. Cole had been progressing finely since his operation some ten days ago until the night before last when he took a decided turn for the worse and his attending physician discovered that he was suffering from an obstruction of the bowel.

Dr. Deaver, the eminent Philadelphia specialist was immediately telegraphed for as a delicate operation was deemed necessary. Dr. Deaver was out of the city however and Dr. Carnett, another eminent surgeon, answered the call, coming to Clearfield last evening on a special train from Tyrone.

When he arrived Mr. Cole's condition had improved and he was resting comfortably and it was then decided to postpone the operation unless the patient again grew worse. Mr. Cole held his own all day and Dr. Carnett left at 1:15 for Philadelphia without having operated.

Mr. Cole's condition is satisfactory but he is far from being out of danger.

Slidding and Slipping Was Order of the Day

Three Machines Came to Grief on First Real Snow Yesterday

Yesterday's snow was hard on automobiles and auto drivers, who had not yet succeeded in adapting themselves to the changed conditions due to slippery streets. As a result wheels were smashed from a machine when it skidded at the Turnpike and West Market street turn, and another was badly used up at the railroad crossing near the creek, while a Mr. Davis, an employee at one of the local garages received painful injuries to an arm and shoulder when his machine skidded into the curb and smashed a wheel off.

TO DRAFT "DRY" LAWS

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 13.—Now that the voters of Michigan have decided in favor of abolishing the licensed saloon the next step is to draft the legislation necessary to put the prohibition amendment into operation. To accomplish this step a conference of prominent attorneys from all parts of the State assembled here today in response to a call issued by the Michigan Anti-Saloon League. The conference is expected to continue over tomorrow.

RED CROSS FIRST AID CLASS MEETING

The following examination of the first aid class will be held by Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. All members wishing to take the examination are requested to be present.

London, Dec. 12.—Great Britain looks to Lloyd George when appears before the House of Commons as premier next Tuesday to make it plain that Germany's peace proposal is not acceptable. Not only the newspaper comment but expression from people in the street make it appear today that the nation is of one mind in holding firmly to the belief that Germany must offer more in her proposal if it is to be given serious consideration.

In Berlin, Germany is given credit by diplomat as initiating a shrewdly brilliant move. In England the peace proposal was in some places referred to as "another of Germany's schemes with the object of creating dissension among the allies."

In England, however, it was held that a flat refusal to consider Germany's proposal would place Germany in an advantageous position from a diplomatic standpoint. Therefore it will be necessary from the same standpoint that the entente powers formally reply to Germany thus shifting further responsibility to Germany. This it was believed should make it clear to Germany that the allies were willing to end the war if negotiations were made on basic principles.

In Washington the idea was general that Germany's negotiations would end the prolonging of further warfare.

The British people have not accepted Germany's offer of peace. No such action on the part of Germany will end the war. That was the answer rife over England today.

The nation looks to Lloyd George next Tuesday to firmly answer the question. It will not be a direct reply as England will have to consult with her allies as to the reply. Press and people alike agree that Germany's offer is preposterous and unfair and deserves no serious consideration here. The bulk of editorial comment today was whether the allies in their reply to Germany would set forth offers if so peace discussion would be considered. If the unanimous opinion of the people and press are listened to the reply will be rejected.

Comment in the "Daily Mail" said that von Vethmann-Hollweg was "no more entitled to the courtesy of a reply than an armed burglar in a prominent pacifist believes that peace negotiations should be entered into, and that England should not decline.

The German people today practically gave unanimous approval of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's warning that if the Entente powers continue war it will be because they have conquest in mind. Editorial comment points out the belief that the desire German people for peace is whole hearted, and if present proposals are rejected Germany will not again take the initiative.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(By United Press)—The administration does not plan to send Colonel House President Wilson's personal advisor abroad to do anything about the German peace proposal. This much was revealed to a United Press representative today. Colonel House was an over night guest of President Wilson. He conferred with Secretary Lansing this forenoon and this afternoon hastened back to New York.

ANOTHER FIREBUG LODGED IN JAIL AT BELLEFTE

William Kulp, Suspected of Being Implicated in Phillipsburg Fires, Is Arrested

THIRD MAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY

Implication in the fires which have devastated the business section of Phillipsburg, William (Toby) Kulp, 40 years of age, who said his home was in Decatur Township, Clearfield County, was Monday night committed to Bellefonte jail, to await the next term of court, by Squire Warfel. Kulp's bail was fixed in the sum of $2,000.

Kulp was caught in the third cast of the dragnet which is being used in the investigation under way here. He was arrested late Monday afternoon by Officer Moore on a warrant sworn to by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. His hearing and commitment quickly followed.

Kulp recently was released from the Cottage State Hospital where he was confined from October 31 with a broken leg.

It developed at the hearing that Kulp, who comes from a good family has been a high flier in the realms of crime in this section. Several years ago in an attempt to shoot his father, he shot his nephew, Charles Kulp, who, as a result, lost an arm. For some reasons unexplainable he never was convicted of this crime. Since then he has considered himself immune and when arrested Monday was loud in his threats.

Characters of his type must go. The wonder is that he and others have so long been permitted to terrorize this community.

If tireless energy and determination to the very root of the evil will clear from our borders all such violators of the law, then we are assured from those in charge of the investigation that such will be the case.

U. S. PAYS CLERKS $100 A YEAR LESS THAN IN 1853

Washington, Dec. 13.—(By United Press)—The United States government now pays its employees $100 less a year than it did 62 years ago, Ethelbert Stewart, chief clerk of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the department of labor, an authority upon the subject declared today.

This decrease comes at a time when the cost of living has soared two-fold and three-fold from the levels of 1854.

The salary scale of government clerks was fixed by act of 1853. Prior to this there has been no regular gradations in pay for employees. A certain number would get, for instance $819 per annum, another $837 others $869.50 and so on. The work of including so many scattering items in the appropriations bill vexed the committee who decided in that year to put all of these in a lump appropriation at $840. This is an example of the plan that was followed in the fixing of the rates of governmental pay to its employees.

In 1854 no clerk listed as such got under $1,200 a year. Now clerks are listed at $840.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER TO PRESIDE AT CONVENTION

Washington, Dec. 13.—With talks by Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's daughter; Percy Mackaye, poet and playwright, and Dr. Henry E. Jackson, of the United States Bureau of Education, the twelfth annual convention of the American Civic Association opened here today.

Miss Wilson presided at the afternoon session, which was devoted to a discussion of the use of the schools as a community center. She made no extended talk, however. Dr. Jackson, of the Bureau of Education, discussed the same topic at length and Mr. Mackaye spoke on the growth of the community drama.

The delegates of the convention will be the guests of the Washington Real Estate Board tonight at which time officials of the War department are expected to outline the plans of the Federal government for the improvement of Potomac Park, the District of Columbia's future municipal playground.

Musicales Announced For Curwensville

Will Be Held on Thursday Evening December 14th.

Keep in mind the entertainment in the Curwensville Presbyterian church on Thursday evening December 14th. It is to be given under the auspices of the Women's Bible Class.

There will be nothing of monotony in the program, but it will be varied with violin, piano and vocal solos to gether with readings and pianologues. Several members will be in costume. The entertainers are of the best talent in this section and are known by many friends in Curwensville. The violinist, Marguerite Myers Patterson, studied in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and is at present instructor in violin in the Susquehanna College of Music. The Soprano soloist, Cornelia Parkhill Reeve, studied under Hayden Owens in Chicago and has had extensive experience in solo work. The pianist Olive Burkett Smith, received her instructors' diploma in the Susquehanna College of Music and her talent is well known.

It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of an evening of the best music as well as of helping the Bible Class in its efforts to raise its church building fund appropriation. Don't miss it.

Woman's Club Held Interesting Session

Requests Donations of Books and Toys for Christmas

A large number were in attendance at the Woman's club meeting last evening. The usual order of business came first on the program.

It was announced that William Wrigley has generously donated a light for the entrance to the club rooms, and will install the same. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Wrigley.

It is again asked that anyone having gifts of books or toys for the toy mission, will send the same to Mrs. H. Clark Thayer's residence on Locust Street this week. Gifts of money for this purpose may be handed to Mrs. M. L. McQuown, Mrs. Charles Kurtz, Mrs. Ross Lambert or Mrs. George Reed.

Miss Schultz gave a very pleasing and instructive talk on food values, including proper combinations of foods. In closing Miss Schultz said a little scientific knowledge used in planning well balanced meals, would save the housewife much necessary labor.

After the meeting adjourned, tea, coffee and sandwiches were served by the exchange.

SCHOOL DISPLAY TO BE SEEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

School and Agricultural Exhibits Will Be On Display There During Institute Week

THE PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND

The High School building in Clearfield has been chosen as the place for the School and Agricultural Display during the Institute week. This will be a novel display since it embraces those products produced by the farm and the school. It is entirely new because it represents the latest tendency in the correlation of the educational and agricultural interests in the rural districts.

This display will be feature by two classes of exhibits namely: those shown by schools Granges and individuals. Each of these belong to a separate department and will not compete directly with each other. The object of holding an agricultural exhibit in the rural schools was fully explained in a previous article. The best exhibits shown in the various school displays throughout the County on Community Day have been assembled and will be shown with exhibits from the Granges and individuals.

The Grange display will promote interest in the order by those who are not members.

The individual exhibits will compete with each other and these should represent the highest type of exhibits shown. In other counties the farm product show has proved itself to be an institution of financial as well as of educational benefit. It aids the farmer financially by facilitating the distribution of good seed and by the effect it has on the standardization of farm products grown. Our county fairs have done a great deal to promote the breeding of better live stock. The County Farm Products show has a similar effect on the improvement of field orchard and garden crops. Exhibitors will have an opportunity to advertise their products by placing their names over them after the judging is done.

An opportunity will be offered, through the Farm Bureau, to send exhibits of corn and fruit to Harrisburg to compete in a State wide farm product show held there during the latter part of January. Generous cash prizes will be paid. Our County should be represented by a good exhibit.

The success of the Agricultural exhibit is dependent entirely on the number of exhibits we receive. This phase of the exhibit was created solely for those institutions and individuals who are interested or should be interested, in the agricultural progress of our County. The progressive attitude of the Clearfield County farmers should guarantee a large exhibit.

Friday afternoon and Saturday of this week will be devoted to placing the exhibit. Send or bring exhibits on or before that time, either to the County Superintendent's office or directly to the school building.

Prizes for all classes of exhibits have been secured. Your exhibits cannot win a prize at home. Bring or send them in as early as you can. All exhibits remain the property of the exhibitor and may be removed Friday afternoon or Saturday of Institute week.

For further information call the offices of the County Superintendent and Farm Bureau at Clearfield.

ONE WAY TO BEAT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Chicago, Dec. 13.—"Raise chickens in your back yard if you would cut the high cost of living," said Theodore Hewes, secretary of the Poultry Show which opened here today. "The increase in the price of dressed poultry has not yet equalled that of pork or beef and it is a commodity that can be produced at home," he added. "A few fowls in the back yard, fed largely from the waste from our table, not only produce delicious meat, but supply fresh eggs, a luxury which few can afford when they must buy them."

A Wife Deserter Sent Over the Hill From Clearfield

Newton Wiley Refused to Support His Family and Judge Bell Gives Him a Year in the Penitentiary

SEVERAL OTHER CASES ARE DISPOSED OF

Judge Bell held a brief session of criminal court Tuesday afternoon and disposed of several cases that had been on tap for some time. He again demonstrated that the wife deserter was going to get all that was coming to him if he fell into the hands of this court and increased the Clearfield colony of wife deserters in the Western penitentiary just one more before he quit for the day.

Newton Wiley of Clearfield, deserter of his wife and two children a couple of years ago. In 1914 he was haled into court on complaint of the neglected wife and ordered to pay $10 per month toward the support of his two children. His aged father became his surety for the payment of the same. When released from custody Wiley promptly refused to make payment and during the past year suit was brought against his father on the bond and as a result his little property was sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy the claim for accrued support.

Following this action Wiley was again taken before the court and this time his brother-in-law went security for the payment of the court's order and when the defendant defaulted again the brother-in-law promptly turned him over to the court and he was accordingly called up yesterday afternoon for sentence. Judge Bell gave him a scathing talking to and closed him remarks with a sentence of one year in the penitentiary.

James M. Stuart, the DuBois man who enlisted in the regular army at the DuBois recruiting office a couple of weeks ago, and decided to supplement Uncle Sam's clothing allowance by stealing a uniform and overcoat from the recruiting officer, was before the court and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny. Stuart although but 24 years of age, has been all over the country. After stealing the clothes at DuBois he left town and was arrested and brought back from Philadelphia. He made all kinds of promises to lead a better life if he got out of this scrape and was remanded to jail for further investigation.

Willis Brandon, the cattle butcher, entered a plea of guilty to attempted jail breaking and was sent back to jail to await trial at May court on the charge of stealing and butchering Mike Kowalski's cow. His sister, Luella Brandon, who is also in jail will be tried at the same time for receiving the stolen meat.

James Phillips, a colored gentleman, who was mixed up in the squabble down at Chestnut's boarding house in the East End a couple of Sundays ago, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons and as Jim said "he was only packing the gun around to oblige a friend who owned it" he was let go on the payment of a $25 fine and the costs.

That "the guilty flee when no man pursueth" was again demonstrated in the case of Joseph P. Coudriet, of Morris township, who was before the court and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of arson.

Coudriet was arrested at his home near Wallacetown about two weeks ago charged with being implicated in the series of incendiary fires at Phillipsburg the past two years. When taken to jail at Bellefonte and examined he easily proved his innocence of any complicity in these crimes, but during the "third degree" given him in connection therewith he volunteered the information that he had set fire to and burned his own home near Wallacetown on September 22nd, 1915.

The Clearfield county authorities were notified of Coudriet's confession and began a quiet investigation of the affair. It was learned that the Coudriet home was burned September 22nd, 1915, and that he received $550 insurance on his loss. His wife was told that her husband had confessed the crime and she then made a

Christmas Savings Looked Good to Man

Young Colored Man Donates to Mother's Savings Fund Club

Roy Hansard, a third street colored man of color, is in favor of Christmas savings funds, in fact he has notes on them, as his mother declared to her sorrow Sunday last, Roy Hansard, who is a thrifty, hardworking woman, had a couple of Christmas savings accounts and last week received her checks for same. If the checks, amounting to some $10, caught the eye of the son, he couldn't keep his fingers off of it. During his mother's absence someone he appropriated the check and taking it to the bank succeeded in getting the money on it.

With the savings fund in his pocket he immediately shook the clerk of Clearfield from his No. 12, and hid himself to parts unknown. He is no doubt now engaged in winning and dining himself on his ill gotten wealth.

A warrant was issued for the young man and the police authorities of all neighboring towns notified and it is only a question of time until he is captured and brought back to answer for his crime.

lean breast of the affair and told how the husband had soaked the place in coal oil and then made his 10 years old son set fire to it.

Coudriet entered a formal plea of guilty and after a brief examination was remanded to jail and his wife will be disposed of later.

The case of the Hurts boy, Grampian, mention of which was made in last night's Progress, is likely to give a further stirring common pleas court. The boy's father has employed R. D. Sargent, Esq., to bring suit against Harry Farrell, the prosecutor, alleging false arrest.

Taken to the "Pen" Deputy Sheriff John E. Chaplin told for Pittsburgh at 1:15 this afternoon having in charge Newton Wiley who was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for wife desertion. Wiley in the Smoky City Deputy Chaplin expects to pick up a man wanted to Clearfield for forgery and larceny and who has been located in that vicinity.

GERMAN TERMS OF PEACE

Germany's offer of peace, in which her allies concur, is another of those brilliant diplomatic strokes she knows so well how to time to the psychological moment. It is a plain and apparently frank statement, after a series of inconclusive hints, of the terms on which a conflict of unexampled proportions may be brought to an end. What is proposed, apart from the establishment of Poland and Lithuania as independent kingdoms, is a return to the status quo. The territory now held in Belgium and France is to be restored. The Balkan question is to be decided in conference. That is an unexpected concession, for it is in the Balkans that German arms so far have been most conspicuously victorious. Yet it is not difficult to understand the motive which prompted yielding on this material point. Germany is apparently playing not so much for peace, as for the conciliation of neutral opinion. She does not expect the Allies to accept these terms; no one does. But by offering them she puts upon them the responsibility of continuing the war. That is why her move is such a clever one.

Were such terms accepted, the honors of war would rest with the Central Powers. There is no need to consider the fictitious alternative of "crushing" Germany or dismantling Austria. What the Allies wish to secure is freedom from the menace of Prussian militarism. It is plain that the mere return of conquered territory cannot accomplish that. Furthermore, some very important questions are left unsettled by the German proposal. France will hardly be content to have made such tremendous sacrifices without regaining Alsace and Lorraine. Italy will not be willing to leave Italian Irredenta unredeemed. Russia can hardly look with satisfaction on the creation of a Poland in which the territory partitioned between Prussia and Austria has no part, or on the disposition of her dream of possessing Constantinople. As for the Balkans, probably the only terms which Germany would be willing to discuss would be such as in some measure would promote her ambitions to obtain a commanding place in the East. If the Allies felt they were losing the war, if they believed these were the best terms they could get, they might agree to them. At present the discussion is largely academic.

The most interesting point, after all is the motive, behind that apparent on the face of the offer, which leads Germany to suggest peace at this time. Any desire to end the war for humane reasons may be dismissed. That is not the way Germany does business, as the fashion in which she began it demonstrated. It is extraordinary, to say the least, that a Power on the crest of the wave, with her own territory untouched, with her Balkan triumphs fresh upon her, should be moving for peace with enemies who she says can never conquer her. It, on the other hand, as there is some cause to believe, the drain upon her financial and economic resources has become so heavy that mere military success can be no permanent gain to her, that she cannot hold what she has won if the war goes on, the purpose of her present attitude is no longer obscure. That is a question upon which speculation is for the moment rather profitless.—Public Ledger.

ON THE SCREEN"THE WOMAN'S LAW"

Special Feature at the Globe Theatre Today

George Orcutt, a dissolute young New York millionaire has forfeited his wife's respect and affection by his notorious infidelities. Gail Orcutt, his wife, centers her attention on her young son Vance, and withdraws from society in a sense of shame for her husband's misconduct. Orcutt, continuing his wild life slays a friend in a quarrel over a young woman. With the fear of the law on him, he tells his wife all and she, in an attempt to save him, starts for the office of her friend, District Attorney John Kept. On the way she comes upon the living double of her husband, a stranger, sitting on a park bench, his mind stunned by a terrific shock. She takes the unresisting man to her home, and, telling her husband to flee, substitutes the stranger for her husband to the District Attorney. The man is committed to an asylum, from which, later, he is released, and goes to live at the Orcutt home. He cannot remember who he is, and takes it for granted he is George Orcutt. What he cannot understand is his "wife's" evident coldness toward him. A reported stumble on the truth and tells the police. Meanwhile, the real George Orcutt, returning home for money, is mistaken by the butler for a burglar and shot dead. With him out of the way, and the reported pledge by the District Attorney to silence, the situation is relieved. The man recovers his memory, and knows he is Keith Edgerton, the death of whose parents caused aphasia. Then he and Gail, recognizing the beautiful something that has crept into their joint lives, find expression for their feelings in a tender embrace.

AMERICAN SALESMAN DANCED "GAME LEG TROT" FOR THE QUEEN OF ITALY.

By John P. Healy
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, Nov. 15.—(By Mail)—How an American salesman tried to sell a wooden leg to the Queen of Italy under the impression that she was a Red Cross nurse was told her today for the first time.

C. C. Swain, a breezy drummer for an artificial limb maker of Washington, D. C., had been doing his best to close an order with the hospital committee representing the Italian government. Just as he was on the verge of giving the gentlemen up as bad prospects in came a most charming black eyed nurse and Charlie, taking heart, started all over again for her benefit.

"It's all a question of getting used to it," said Swain. "See, I can spin around on mine like a top." Swain suited the action to the word. For Sample was his own left leg.

The Red Cross nurse was intensely interested.

Swain unwound every inch of his line of talk. Over the mysterious frowns and restlessness of the committee he gave her much information. He told her of his climb to the skyscraping dome of St. Peter's. If she didn't believe it, she could ask the guide who had seen his performance and had received his card.

Afterward, he caught up a chair and danced the "grizzly bear," gliding gradually into a "hesitation." He ended his dancing spree with a bit of "tango." Apparently amazed at his stunts, the black eyed nurse made her thanks and disappeared. The American salesman, thereupon turned again to the committee. He met a thundering storm of wrath. "Fool! Fool!" roared the chorons of voices, "didn't you know that was Her Majesty, Elena Queen of Italy?" "Holy Smoke!" sighed Swain. "To think I had a golden opportunity and used it like a nickel-plated one."

Beginning on December 18th this store will be open evenings until Christmas. Ross & Wods.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestine of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad tastes, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe the inside than the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowels, pores do.

What is dearer to the heart of a boy than a knife all his own? Give him anything else you will, yet he treasures a knife. With it he can "make something." We had this idea in mind when we made our knife purchases this year and such an array of good stout "whittlers" as we are showing!

There are knives with rosewood, coco bolo, ebony, stag, brass and metal handles. There are knives of every conceivable shape and size. The blades will hold a razor edge.

We have not forgotten the older boys and for them we have pearl handled knives that are just the thing for the vest pocket. These are the famous Wostenholme make.

The price range is wide running from 10c to $7.00

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog the and result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness, and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy; nervous spells, acid stomach or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and has been used for generations as lemon juice, combined with lithia, to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

A. L. Cole's Condition Shows Improvement

Philadelphia Specialist Returns Home Without Operating.

As we go to press word from the Clearfield Hospital contains the satisfying intelligence that the condition of A. L. Cole, Esq., remains somewhat improved over what it was this time yesterday, when he was reported in a very critical condition.

Mr. Cole had been progressing finely since his operation some ten days ago until the night before last when he took a decided turn for the worse and his attending physician discovered that he was suffering from an obstruction of the bowel.

Dr. Deaver, the eminent Philadelphia specialist was immediately telegraphed for as a delicate operation was deemed necessary. Dr. Deaver was out of the city however and Dr. Carnett, another eminent surgeon, answered the call, coming to Clearfield last evening on a special train from Tyrone.

When he arrived Mr. Cole's condition had improved and he was resting comfortably and it was then decided to postpone the operation unless the patient again grew worse. Mr. Cole held his own all day and Dr. Carnett left at 1:15 for Philadelphia without having operated.

Mr. Cole's condition is satisfactory but he is far from being out of danger.

London, Dec. 12.—Great Britain looks to Lloyd George when appears before the House of Commons as premier next Tuesday to make it plain that Germany's peace proposal is not acceptable. Not only the newspaper comment but expression from people in the street make it appear today that the nation is of one mind in holding firmly to the belief that Germany must offer more in her proposal if it is to be given serious consideration.

In Berlin, Germany is given credit by diplomat as initiating a shrewdly brilliant move. In England the peace proposal was in some places referred to as "another of Germany's schemes with the object of creating dissension among the allies."

In England, however, it was held that a flat refusal to consider Germany's proposal would place Germany in an advantageous position from a diplomatic standpoint. Therefore it will be necessary from the same standpoint that the entente powers formally reply to Germany thus shifting further responsibility to Germany. This it was believed should make it clear to Germany that the allies were willing to end the war if negotiations were made on basic principles.

In Washington the idea was general that Germany's negotiations would end the prolonging of further warfare.

The British people have not accepted Germany's offer of peace. No such action on the part of Germany will end the war. That was the answer rife over England today.

The nation looks to Lloyd George next Tuesday to firmly answer the question. It will not be a direct reply as England will have to consult with her allies as to the reply. Press and people alike agree that Germany's offer is preposterous and unfair and deserves no serious consideration here. The bulk of editorial comment today was whether the allies in their reply to Germany would set forth offers if so peace discussion would be considered. If the unanimous opinion of the people and press are listened to the reply will be rejected.

Comment in the "Daily Mail" said that von Vethmann-Hollweg was "no more entitled to the courtesy of a reply than an armed burglar in a prominent pacifist believes that peace negotiations should be entered into, and that England should not decline.

The German people today practically gave unanimous approval of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's warning that if the Entente powers continue war it will be because they have conquest in mind. Editorial comment points out the belief that the desire German people for peace is whole hearted, and if present proposals are rejected Germany will not again take the initiative.

Washington, Dec. 13.—(By United Press)—The administration does not plan to send Colonel House President Wilson's personal advisor abroad to do anything about the German peace proposal. This much was revealed to a United Press representative today. Colonel House was an over night guest of President Wilson. He conferred with Secretary Lansing this forenoon and this afternoon hastened back to New York.

ANOTHER FIREBUG LODGED IN JAIL AT BELLEFTE

THIRD MAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY

Implication in the fires which have devastated the business section of Phillipsburg, William (Toby) Kulp, 40 years of age, who said his home was in Decatur Township, Clearfield County, was Monday night committed to Bellefonte jail, to await the next term of court, by Squire Warfel. Kulp's bail was fixed in the sum of $2,000.

Kulp was caught in the third cast of the dragnet which is being used in the investigation under way here. He was arrested late Monday afternoon by Officer Moore on a warrant sworn to by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. His hearing and commitment quickly followed.

Kulp recently was released from the Cottage State Hospital where he was confined from October 31 with a broken leg.

It developed at the hearing that Kulp, who comes from a good family has been a high flier in the realms of crime in this section. Several years ago in an attempt to shoot his father, he shot his nephew, Charles Kulp, who, as a result, lost an arm. For some reasons unexplainable he never was convicted of this crime.

Since then he has considered himself immune and when arrested Monday was loud in his threats. Characters of his type must go. The wonder is that he has others have so long been permitted to terrorize this community.

If tireless energy and determination to the very root of the evil will clear from our borders all such violators of the law, then we are assured from those in charge of the investigation that such will be the case.

U. S. PAYS CLERKS $100 A YEAR LESS THAN IN 1853

Washington, Dec. 13.—(By United Press)—The United States government now pays its employees $100 less a year than it did 62 years ago, Ethelbert Stewart, chief clerk of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the department of labor, an authority upon the subject declared today.

This decrease comes at a time when the cost of living has soared two-fold and three-fold from the levels of 1854.

The salary scale of government clerks was fixed by act of 1853. Prior to this there has been no regular gradations in pay for employees. A certain number would get, for instance $819 per annum, another $837 others $869.50 and so on. The work of including so many scattering items in the appropriations bill vexed the committee who decided in that year to put all of these in a lump appropriation at $840. This is an example of the plan that was followed in the fixing of the rates of governmental pay to its employees.

In 1854 no clerk listed as such got under $1,200 a year. Now clerks are listed at $840.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER TO PRESIDE AT CONVENTION

Washington, Dec. 13.—With talks by Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's daughter; Percy Mackaye, poet and playwright, and Dr. Henry E. Jackson, of the United States Bureau of Education, the twelfth annual convention of the American Civic Association opened here today.

Miss Wilson presided at the afternoon session, which was devoted to a discussion of the use of the schools as a community center. She made no extended talk, however. Dr. Jackson, of the Bureau of Education, discussed the same topic at length and Mr. Mackaye spoke on the growth of the community drama.

The delegates of the convention will be the guests of the Washington Real Estate Board tonight at which time officials of the War department are expected to outline the plans of the Federal government for the improvement of Potomac Park, the District of Columbia's future municipal playground.

Musicales Announced For Curwensville

Will Be Held on Thursday Evening December 14th.

Keep in mind the entertainment in the Curwensville Presbyterian church on Thursday evening December 14th. It is to be given under the auspices of the Women's Bible Class.

There will be nothing of monotony in the program, but it will be varied with violin, piano and vocal solos to gether with readings and pianologues. Several members will be in costume. The entertainers are of the best talent in this section and are known by many friends in Curwensville. The violinist, Marguerite Myers Patterson, studied in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and is at present instructor in violin in the Susquehanna College of Music. The Soprano soloist, Cornelia Parkhill Reeve, studied under Hayden Owens in Chicago and has had extensive experience in solo work. The pianist Olive Burkett Smith, received her instructors' diploma in the Susquehanna College of Music and her talent is well known.

It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of an evening of the best music as well as of helping the Bible Class in its efforts to raise its church building fund appropriation. Don't miss it.

Woman's Club Held Interesting Session

Requests Donations of Books and Toys for Christmas

A large number were in attendance at the Woman's club meeting last evening. The usual order of business came first on the program.

It was announced that William Wrigley has generously donated a light for the entrance to the club rooms, and will install the same. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Wrigley.

It is again asked that anyone having gifts of books or toys for the toy mission, will send the same to Mrs. H. Clark Thayer's residence on Locust Street this week. Gifts of money for this purpose may be handed to Mrs. M. L. McQuown, Mrs. Charles Kurtz, Mrs. Ross Lambert or Mrs. George Reed.

Miss Schultz gave a very pleasing and instructive talk on food values, including proper combinations of foods. In closing Miss Schultz said a little scientific knowledge used in planning well balanced meals, would save the housewife much necessary labor.

After the meeting adjourned, tea, coffee and sandwiches were served by the exchange.

SCHOOL DISPLAY TO BE SEEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

School and Agricultural Exhibits Will Be On Display There During Institute Week

THE PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND

The High School building in Clearfield has been chosen as the place for the School and Agricultural Display during the Institute week. This will be a novel display since it embraces those products produced by the farm and the school. It is entirely new because it represents the latest tendency in the correlation of the educational and agricultural interests in the rural districts.

This display will be feature by two classes of exhibits namely: those shown by schools Granges and individuals. Each of these belong to a separate department and will not compete directly with each other. The object of holding an agricultural exhibit in the rural schools was fully explained in a previous article. The best exhibits shown in the various school displays throughout the County on Community Day have been assembled and will be shown with exhibits from the Granges and individuals.

The Grange display will promote interest in the order by those who are not members.

The individual exhibits will compete with each other and these should represent the highest type of exhibits shown. In other counties the farm product show has proved itself to be an institution of financial as well as of educational benefit. It aids the farmer financially by facilitating the distribution of good seed and by the effect it has on the standardization of farm products grown. Our county fairs have done a great deal to promote the breeding of better live stock. The County Farm Products show has a similar effect on the improvement of field orchard and garden crops. Exhibitors will have an opportunity to advertise their products by placing their names over them after the judging is done.

An opportunity will be offered, through the Farm Bureau, to send exhibits of corn and fruit to Harrisburg to compete in a State wide farm product show held there during the latter part of January. Generous cash prizes will be paid. Our County should be represented by a good exhibit.

The success of the Agricultural exhibit is dependent entirely on the number of exhibits we receive. This phase of the exhibit was created solely for those institutions and individuals who are interested or should be interested, in the agricultural progress of our County. The progressive attitude of the Clearfield County farmers should guarantee a large exhibit.

Friday afternoon and Saturday of this week will be devoted to placing the exhibit. Send or bring exhibits on or before that time, either to the County Superintendent's office or directly to the school building.

Prizes for all classes of exhibits have been secured. Your exhibits cannot win a prize at home. Bring or send them in as early as you can. All exhibits remain the property of the exhibitor and may be removed Friday afternoon or Saturday of Institute week.

For further information call the offices of the County Superintendent and Farm Bureau at Clearfield.

ONE WAY TO BEAT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Chicago, Dec. 13.—"Raise chickens in your back yard if you would cut the high cost of living," said Theodore Hewes, secretary of the Poultry Show which opened here today. "The increase in the price of dressed poultry has not yet equalled that of pork or beef and it is a commodity that can be produced at home," he added. "A few fowls in the back yard, fed largely from the waste from our table, not only produce delicious meat, but supply fresh eggs, a luxury which few can afford when they must buy them."

A Wife Deserter Sent Over the Hill From Clearfield

Newton Wiley Refused to Support His Family and Judge Bell Gives Him a Year in the Penitentiary

SEVERAL OTHER CASES ARE DISPOSED OF

Judge Bell held a brief session of criminal court Tuesday afternoon and disposed of several cases that had been on tap for some time. He again demonstrated that the wife deserter was going to get all that was coming to him if he fell into the hands of this court and increased the Clearfield colony of wife deserters in the Western penitentiary just one more before he quit for the day.

Newton Wiley of Clearfield, deserter of his wife and two children a couple of years ago. In 1914 he was haled into court on complaint of the neglected wife and ordered to pay $10 per month toward the support of his two children. His aged father became his surety for the payment of the same. When released from custody Wiley promptly refused to make payment and during the past year suit was brought against his father on the bond and as a result his little property was sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy the claim for accrued support.

Following this action Wiley was again taken before the court and this time his brother-in-law went security for the payment of the court's order and when the defendant defaulted again the brother-in-law promptly turned him over to the court and he was accordingly haled up yesterday afternoon for sentence. Judge Bell gave him a scathing talking to and closed him remarks with a sentence of one year in the penitentiary.

James M. Stuart, the DuBois man who enlisted in the regular army at the DuBois recruiting office a couple of weeks ago, and decided to supplement Uncle Sam's clothing allowance by stealing a uniform and overcoat from the recruiting officer, was before the court and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny. Stuart although but 24 years of age, has been all over the country. After stealing the clothes at DuBois he left town and was arrested and brought back from Philadelphia. He made all kinds of promises to lead a better life if he got out of this scrape and was remanded to jail for further investigation.

Willis Brandon, the cattle butcher, entered a plea of guilty to attempted jail breaking and was sent back to jail to await trial at May court on the charge of stealing and butchering Mike Kowalski's cow. His sister, Luella Brandon, who is also in jail will be tried at the same time for receiving the stolen meat.

James Phillips, a colored gentleman, who was mixed up in the squabble down at Chestnut's boarding house in the East End a couple of Sundays ago, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons and as Jim said "he was only packing the gun around to oblige a friend who owned it" he was let go on the payment of a $25 fine and the costs.

That "the guilty flee when no man pursueth" was again demonstrated in the case of Joseph P. Coudriet, of Morris township, who was before the court and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of arson.

Coudriet was arrested at his home near Wallacetown about two weeks ago charged with being implicated in the series of incendiary fires at Phillipsburg the past two years. When taken to jail at Bellefonte and examined he easily proved his innocence of any complicity in these crimes, but during the "third degree" given him in connection therewith he volunteered the information that he had set fire to and burned his own home near Wallacetown on September 22nd, 1915.

The Clearfield county authorities were notified of Coudriet's confession and began a quiet investigation of the affair. It was learned that the Coudriet home was burned September 22nd, 1915, and that he received $550 insurance on his loss. His wife was told that her husband had confessed the crime and she then made a

West Side Musicals Thursday Evening

Local Talent Promises Brilliant Vocal and Instrumental Numbers

A musical entertainment will be given at the West Side M. E. church on Thursday evening, December 14th, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The program will consist of vocal and instrumental music by members of Clearfield's most talented musicians and vocalists. The Sunday School Chorus will also give a number of selections. A rare musical treat is assured all who attend. No admission fee will be charged but a collection offering will be taken.

Following the musical entertainment a dime social will be held in the basement of the church. Refreshments invited to be present.

BRINGS WAR

New York, Dec. 13.—(By Press)—The bulk of the news in the American press today declares that Germany's peace proposal has brought the end of war, but that an early ending of the conflict is not to be expected. Generally the press will be unresponsive to the

Christmas Savings Looked Good to Man

Young Colored Man Donates to Mother's Savings Fund Club

Roy Hansard, a third street colored man of color, is in favor of Christmas savings funds, in fact he has notes on them, as his mother has, and to her sorrow Sunday last, Hansard, who is a thrifty, hardworking woman, had a couple of Christmas savings accounts and last week received her checks for same. If the checks, amounting to some $10, caught the eye of the son, who couldn't keep his fingers off of it. During his mother's absence, Hansard appropriated the checks and taking it to the bank succeeded in getting the money on it.

With the savings fund in his pocket he immediately shook the clerk of Clearfield from his No. 12, and fled himself to parts unknown. He is no doubt now engaged in winning and dining himself on his ill gotten wealth.

A warrant was issued for the young man and the police authorities of all neighboring towns notified and it is only a question of time until he is captured and brought back to answer for his crime.

lean breast of the affair and told how the husband had soaked the place in coal oil and then made his 10 years old son set fire to it.

Coudriet entered a formal plea of guilty and after a brief examination was remanded to jail and his wife will be disposed of later.

The case of the Hurts boy, Grampian, mention of which was made in last night's Progress, is likely to give a further stirring common pleas court. The boy's father has employed R. D. Sargent, Esq., to bring suit against Harry Farrell, the prosecutor, alleging false arrest.

Taken to the "Pen" Deputy Sheriff John E. Chaplin told for Pittsburgh at 1:15 this afternoon having in charge Newton Wiley who was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for wife desertion. Wiley in the Smoky City Deputy Chaplin expects to pick up a man wanted to Clearfield for forgery and larceny and who has been located in that vicinity.

GERMAN TERMS OF PEACE

Germany's offer of peace, in which her allies concur, is another of those brilliant diplomatic strokes she knows so well how to time to the psychological moment. It is a plain and apparently frank statement, after a series of inconclusive hints, of the terms on which a conflict of unexampled proportions may be brought to an end. What is proposed, apart from the establishment of Poland and Lithuania as independent kingdoms, is a return to the status quo. The territory now held in Belgium and France is to be restored. The Balkan question is to be decided in conference. That is an unexpected concession, for it is in the Balkans that German arms so far have been most conspicuously victorious. Yet it is not difficult to understand the motive which prompted yielding on this material point. Germany is apparently playing not so much for peace, as for the conciliation of neutral opinion. She does not expect the Allies to accept these terms; no one does. But by offering them she puts upon them the responsibility of continuing the war. That is why her move is such a clever one.

Were such terms accepted, the honors of war would rest with the Central Powers. There is no need to consider the fictitious alternative of "crushing" Germany or dismantling Austria. What the Allies wish to secure is freedom from the menace of Prussian militarism. It is plain that the mere return of conquered territory cannot accomplish that. Furthermore, some very important questions are left unsettled by the German proposal. France will hardly be content to have made such tremendous sacrifices without regaining Alsace and Lorraine. Italy will not be willing to leave Italian Irredenta unredeemed. Russia can hardly look with satisfaction on the creation of a Poland in which the territory partitioned between Prussia and Austria has no part, or on the disposition of her dream of possessing Constantinople. As for the Balkans, probably the only terms which Germany would be willing to discuss would be such as in some measure would promote her ambitions to obtain a commanding place in the East. If the Allies felt they were losing the war, if they believed these were the best terms they could get, they might agree to them. At present the discussion is largely academic.

The most interesting point, after all is the motive, behind that apparent on the face of the offer, which leads Germany to suggest peace at this time. Any desire to end the war for humane reasons may be dismissed. That is not the way Germany does business, as the fashion in which she began it demonstrated. It is extraordinary, to say the least, that a Power on the crest of the wave, with her own territory untouched, with her Balkan triumphs fresh upon her, should be moving for peace with enemies who she says can never conquer her. It, on the other hand, as there is some cause to believe, the drain upon her financial and economic resources has become so heavy that mere military success can be no permanent gain to her, that she cannot hold what she has won if the war goes on, the purpose of her present attitude is no longer obscure. That is a question upon which speculation is for the moment rather profitless.—Public Ledger.

Stop dosing Rheumatism. It's pain only, not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot" and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a natural rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints and bones; stops aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer. Rub rheumatism away.

NEW BISHOP OF SOUTH DAKOTA

New York, Dec. 13.—The great Cathedral of St. John the Divine in this city is to be the scene of notable ceremonies tomorrow, when Rev. Hugh Latimer Burleson will be consecrated bishop of the Episcopal diocese of South Dakota. The new bishop is a native of Minnesota and in his early career filled rectorships in various churches in Wisconsin, North Dakota, and New York State. For the past ten years he has filled the position of editorial secretary of the Episcopal Board of Missions. He is one of five brothers who entered the Episcopal Ministry.

THREE COLLEGES IN DEBATE

New York, Dec. 13.—The annual triangular debate between teams representing Yale, Columbia and Syracuse will take place tomorrow evening and promises to be one of the interesting events of the university year. Each institution is to be represented by two teams; one to debate at home and the other abroad. The subject selected for the debate is: "Resolved, that capital and labor should be forced by law to settle their disputes in legally established courts of arbitration."

ON THE SCREEN"THE WOMAN'S LAW"

Special Feature at the Globe Theatre Today

George Orcutt, a dissolute young New York millionaire has forfeited his wife's respect and affection by his notorious infidelities. Gail Orcutt, his wife, centers her attention on her young son Vance, and withdraws from society in a sense of shame for her husband's misconduct. Orcutt, continuing his wild life slays a friend in a quarrel over a young woman. With the fear of the law on him, he tells his wife all and she, in an attempt to save him, starts for the office of her friend, District Attorney John Kept. On the way she comes upon the living double of her husband, a stranger, sitting on a park bench, his mind stunned by a terrific shock. She takes the unresisting man to her home, and, telling her husband to flee, substitutes the stranger for her husband to the District Attorney. The man is committed to an asylum, from which, later, he is released, and goes to live at the Orcutt home. He cannot remember who he is, and takes it for granted he is George Orcutt. What he cannot understand is his "wife's" evident coldness toward him. A reported stumble on the truth and tells the police. Meanwhile, the real George Orcutt, returning home for money, is mistaken by the butler for a burglar and shot dead. With him out of the way, and the reported pledge by the District Attorney to silence, the situation is relieved. The man recovers his memory, and knows he is Keith Edgerton, the death of whose parents caused aphasia. Then he and Gail, recognizing the beautiful something that has crept into their joint lives, find expression for their feelings in a tender embrace.

AMERICAN SALESMAN DANCED "GAME LEG TROT" FOR THE QUEEN OF ITALY.

By John P. Healy
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, Nov. 15.—(By Mail)—How an American salesman tried to sell a wooden leg to the Queen of Italy under the impression that she was a Red Cross nurse was told her today for the first time.

C. C. Swain, a breezy drummer for an artificial limb maker of Washington, D. C., had been doing his best to close an order with the hospital committee representing the Italian government. Just as he was on the verge of giving the gentlemen up as bad prospects in came a most charming black eyed nurse and Charlie, taking heart, started all over again for her benefit.

"It's all a question of getting used to it," said Swain. "See, I can spin around on mine like a top." Swain suited the action to the word. For Sample was his own left leg.

The Red Cross nurse was intensely interested.

Swain unwound every inch of his line of talk. Over the mysterious frowns and restlessness of the committee he gave her much information. He told her of his climb to the skyscraping dome of St. Peter's. If she didn't believe it, she could ask the guide who had seen his performance and had received his card.

Afterward, he caught up a chair and danced the "grizzly bear," gliding gradually into a "hesitation." He ended his dancing spree with a bit of "tango." Apparently amazed at his stunts, the black eyed nurse made her thanks and disappeared. The American salesman, thereupon turned again to the committee. He met a thundering storm of wrath. "Fool! Fool!" roared the chorons of voices, "didn't you know that was Her Majesty, Elena Queen of Italy?" "Holy Smoke!" sighed Swain. "To think I had a golden opportunity and used it like a nickel-plated one."

Beginning on December 18th this store will be open evenings until Christmas. Ross & Wods.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestine of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad tastes, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe the inside than the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowels, pores do.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

THUMBELISA
ESCAPED HER LOVER

"You must be married to our neighbor."

(Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.)

AFTER supper daddy took his children on his lap and told them: "There was once a stupid old mole who wanted to marry a little fairy of a girl named Thumbelisa. Every evening he held along his dark tunnel to pay her a visit, whether she wished to see him or not. Mole's wife said to him: 'Thumbelisa loved birds and sunshine, but the old mole was forever telling her that when the summer came to an end the sun would not shine nearly so brightly.'"

"Yes, when the summer was over they would be married."

"But Thumbelisa was not pleased with what he said, for she had no love for the old mole and she thought he was a very foolish fellow."

"Every morning at sunrise and every evening at sunset she used to stand out of the old field mouse's hole. You must always remember that Thumbelisa lived with a field mouse near a cornfield. When the wind blew aside the tops of the cornstalks so she could see the blue sky she thought how bright and beautiful it was up on the top of the corn and she always looked about among the trees to catch a glimpse of her dear swallow."

"Once she found a swallow almost dead in the old mole's passageway and had nursed it back to life. Then it flew away from her. So now as she gazed up between the cornstalks she never saw her bird. No doubt it was far, far away, flying about in some beautiful green wood."

"When the summer passed, just as the old mole was always wishing, and when autumn days came Thumbelisa's wedding clothes were finally finished. The old field mouse had paid four spiders a high price to spin beautiful silks and soft wools into handsome little garments just big enough for a bride only one inch high."

"In four weeks you must be married to our neighbor, the mole," one day the old field mouse said to Thumbelisa.

"But Thumbelisa cried like anything and said that she would not have for her husband a stupid old mole who hated her with his dull talk and who hated the sunshine."

"Fiddle-de-dee!" said the field mouse. "Don't be obstinate, my child, or I will bite you with my white teeth. You are going to have a splendid husband. The queen herself hasn't the cup of his black velvet coat. Both his cellar and his kitchen are full of good things to eat. You should thank heaven for such a husband!"

Then the children thanked daddy and ran upstairs.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grand mother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars your face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked just an application of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture, you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge of soft brush and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Buy Toys at This Store For Your Children Buy Toys Made In America

Let this be a Christmas season where the spirit of Americanism will be instilled into the children and to such an extent that the ideals of America may be made part of them as they grow older and older. Because of the war in Europe, American manufacturers have been FORCED to make toys, and since necessity is the mother of invention it has in this case inspired the manufacturers to create toys equal to any of those from abroad. These American made toys will appeal immediately to the children of America. This store makes a special display of toys made in America, by American workmen, for American children.

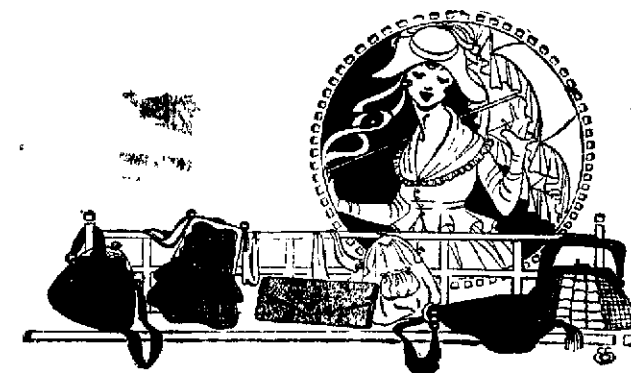

Bring the children to Joytown tomorrow. Let them revel in the wonders of Toytown. Just another thing that is of particular interest to parents—please note how very, very moderate the good toys are marked at this store.

Give Handkerchiefs for Christmas—They're Always Acceptable

You're sure to give a gift that's acceptable if you give handkerchiefs and it matters not who the recipient is, handkerchiefs are always acceptable. A woman can never have too many handkerchiefs and particularly the kind she receives for Christmas gifts. See our splendid assortments priced from 5c to 75c each

Have you Thought of a Pretty Dress for a Christmas Gift?

Did you ever see any woman have too many dresses? Did you ever see any woman who would refuse to own a pretty dress? Then just imagine how well satisfied your mother, wife or your sister would be if you placed in her lap a box containing a pretty dress for a Christmas gift. And it matters not what price you pay, a gift of this kind is far more sensible than anything you can buy. Here are the very newest styles and, what is more, styles that are favored by every woman in the city. Prices range from $8.75 to $65.00

Hand Bags: New Designs---Velvet and Leather

A great number of the shapes have just been received. They are the very newest idea in use by the fashion leaders of New York. Yet while the shapes are absolutely new, prices are particularly moderate, ranging from 25c to $5.00

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR SELLING BOOZE

L. C. Bullock, who last spring was appointed a justice of the peace at State College by Governor Brumbaugh, last week pleaded guilty to six bills of indictment, charging him with the illegal sale of liquor at State College, and at Bellefonte on Monday was sentenced by Judge Quigley to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve six months in jail. To save forfeiting his commission by imprisonment Bullock resigned as justice two weeks.

BIRTHDAY OF HARVARD PRESIDENT

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 13—Harvard men in all parts of the world remembered Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell with messages of greeting today on the occasion of his sixtieth birthday anniversary. President Lowell was born Dec. 13, 1856 in Boston and began his career as a practicing lawyer in that city. He was appointed a lecturer at Harvard in 1897, and in 1900 he was chosen to succeed Dr. Eliot as president of the university.

ILLINOIS FRUIT GROWERS

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 13—The annual convention of the Illinois Horticultural Society, which began its session at the State university today, is marked by an unusually large attendance. The three-day program provides for discussions in which many well known horticultural experts will take part. In connection with the meeting there is a large display of native fruits and vegetables.

STEWART'S DRUG STORE

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog the and result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness, and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy; nervous spells acid stomach or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and has been used for generations lemon juice, combined with lithia to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.
